② POMPEIIANA NEWSLETTER 🏚 JAN.A.D. MCMLXXXVIII

VOL. XIV, NO.5

A.d. IV 1d. Feb. Anno Domini MCMLXX, duae optimae catervae musicorum in Texasense conveniebant et nova caterva facta est quae appellata est Z Z Summum, Hae duae catervae prius Caerulei et Movens Ambulacrum. Tres viri in hac caterva nova erant Guilliemulus Gibbonis, Pulverulentus Collis et Candida Barba.

Z Z Zummum emittebat suum primum discum A.D. MCMLXX. Multa exempla huius disci vendita sunt populis indigenis sed non mundanis. Eadem fortuna contigit secundo disco cui titulus erat "Magraum Flumen " Tandem A.D. MCMLXXIII Z Z Summ habebat discum perscriptum apud summa XXX

Z Z U M M U M

By Bob Smith and Mike Popovich, Latin III students of Nancy Mazur, Marion L. Steele H. S., Amherst, Ohio.

carmina - titulus huic disco erat "La Grange." Post compluria alia carmina ad summas chartas volaverunt, Z Z Summum fecit magnum iter ut spectacula musica ageret. Hoe iter sex menses faciebatur et in his spectaculis etiam ostendebantur – horribile dietu – multa animalia: iuvenca, bos, V vultures, anguis crepens, lupus et porcus. In scaena quoque erant cacti spinosi ab Texasense.

Post hoc iter musicum, Z Z Summum ferias III annos agebat. Nemo sciebat quo hi musici ierant. Per has ferias autem unus discus emissus est cui titulus erat "Optimu Z.Z.Summi" Post has ferias, tres musici iterum conveniebant et - mirabile visu - Pulverulentus Collis et Guilliemulus Gibbonis barbas longas promiserant! Mox hace caterva emisit alium discum cui titulus erat "Deguello." "Cerritus" erat proximus discus emissus A.D. MCMLXXXI.

A.D. MCMLXXXIII "Vastator" emissus est et factus est huius catervae discus notissimus. Quadragiens centena milia exempla huius disci vendida sunt per mundum. In hoc disco unum carmen multis maxime placebat. Hoc carmen erat "Crures," et perscriptum est in loco quarto apud summa X carmina.

Postremo, post XVII annos, illa parva caterva a Texasense totum mundum expugnavit sicut turbo. Hi enim tres musici delectant maximos populos. Barbae, vitra soloria, petasi, vocum et nervorum cantus efficiunt recens miraculum musicum . . . Z Z SUMMUM!

SOCCER ANALOGY INSPIRES T-SHIRT DESIGN

When Kathy Hayes, Latin teacher at Barr Street Anon Mathy Hayes, Latin teacher at herr street Jr. H.S. in Lancaster, South Carolina, gave her usual "Italy looks like a soccer player about to kick a soccer boll" analogy to her Latin II cluss this year, she had no idea she would in-spire one of her students, Mandy Powers, to create a very modern drawing of the unalogy de-stined to become this year's T-shirt design.

Presence of the Past

Discovering Roman Britain: Silchester

By Patricia Cupp, Clay Jr. H.S., Carmel, Indiana

Because of its many excavations, more is known of the oppidum of Silchester (Calleva Arrebatum) than any other Roman town in Britain. What is most ironic to the visitor to the site is that while one can walk the spectacular 2.4 km circuit of the remaining walk one can only walk on rather than in this once flourishing settlement where today cows and goats graze. Beneath the pastureland, carefully reburied after each excavation, lie the original Roman streets and structures, forever protected from the destructive action of weather, weeds, vandals and souvenir hunters.

Even buried, however, the town is not hidden. Every summer the Roman streets emerge as yellow lines in a green field, and the ripening crops themselves reveal an image of the town beneath. The wheat and barley cannot root so deeply in the gravel streets and flint walls, and the plants are shorter and poorer than plants in the

(continued on Pagina Secunda)

AVE, CAESARULE!

Little Gsesar still enjoys an old fashioned Triumph, fashioned Triumph, especially when the cena will feature pizza galore. This Caesarulus hails from 1. § A Ventures in Owensboro, Kentucky, and loves to be invited to parables. parades.

> Thanks to Judy Trance to Jud Grebe, Mount Vernon, Ind., for charing this picture with us.

MARCUS TULLIUS CICERO, BORN JAN. 3, 106 B.C.

My name is M, T, Cicero My domus est in Rome. Vixi there till Clodius Made me leave my home.

Natus sum at Arpinum In CVI B.C. My pater erat Homanus knight Et so was I, you see.

There I met Lucius Catiline Who wanted the consulship. A femina, Fulvia, helped me out And I made poor Catiline slip, Dixi for the poet Archias In LXII B.C., Then made Clodius my enemy; He resolved to get even with me.

Clodius got the upper hand And had me sent in exile. Dixit I was wrong to put to death The conspirators without a trial.

Chenar occisus est a senatu; Octavian came in his stead; It's almost impossible to tell you But I soon lost my head,

Moment of Monumental and Irrepressible Silliness Yields Myth

Duniel Abraham lives in Landale, Pennsylvania. Se sriies, "I am a Latin student of two years. At times the grammur bagins to wear on me, and the Pompeiona Navalenter show me another side to the language. In a moment of momental and trappressible silliness I wrote a might so be known as "less and Neutonia." It is on the traditional thems of "god meats marral, god loves mortal, mortal refuses god, god turne mortal refuse thidows creature." Here is his story: mortal into long ago, in the land of the Achaeans, lived a beautiful princess by the name of Newtonia. She was in the fertile crescent of the area, in spe-cific, the fig belt, and her father was the fig king. She was also the fairest female in the land, and she knew it for her mirror told her so.

Zeus and Newtonia

One day she was out riding in the forest and met One day she was out fining in the torest and met-leus, in the form of an antelope. Newtonia, be-ing an accomplished archer, short an arrow at the antelope, but before the arrow struck, Ompid, feeling mischievous, had changed it into one of his golden arrows. And so Inas fell in love with Newtonia. He needed, however, to return briefly to Olympus to care for his sounds.

Westonia, whilst recovering her arrows, discover-ed that she had also accidentally shot a young tinsmith by the name of Terence. She carried him back to her sammer cottage and cared for him there while he healed.

The next week, Newtonia rode home to tell her father that she intended to marry Torence. The fig king calsaly noted that, in her absence, he had betrothed her to Bovinus, the king of cattle country in the leather belt. Newtonia was heart-broken. Bound by duty, she knew she must marry Bovinus. Yet she ran off to the hut where her lover lay. Unfortunately, when she arrived, she found Torence dead, slain by Bovinus' assassins.

Newtonia was distraught. She flew back to her father and swore she would never marry the man who had slain the one she loved. Her father become unery and locked her in the from Tower to cool off for a while.

Neumshile, Zeus returned in the guise of a wan-dering ostrich. He approached Newtonia, but she, still grieving for her lost love, rebuded him. Zeus flew into a ruge, took her outside and turn-ed her into a tree so incomspicuous that none would recognize her. Great was everyone's sorrow following her disappearance.

Then, in the spring, a strange fruit was born of this tree--a rare and wenderful fruit that was the product of her great sorrow: the Fig Newton!

Pompetition, Tec.
6005 Indianola Avenue
Indianapolis, Indiana etzza

WHAT TO SEE AND DO IN ROME THIS MONTH

There are three January observances that can be enjoyed, but be of them will require travel to the rural communities just outside Rome. If you can leave the city for theme last bee, you will be troated to some very ancient and very revered celebrations.

Extendis Ismusriis (Jam. 1)

This is the principal festival of the god Junes. Be sure to attend the sacrifice at the temple to witness the uncient offering of barley, incense and wine. Following the temple service, you will want to take part in the traditional gift eachange. Be sure to have some sweets and some Junes life. bifrom coins to give as Streme to your epends on community tradition COMPITALIA Yea'll have to ask around in the rural areas to find a place where the Compitalia are still celebrated. These are very ancient crossrood festivals. Depending on local traditions, you may find country folks simply enjoying special homey-cakes, or you may find partic or poppy heads being offered as a sacrifice. Some rural communities try to sponsor local games on the feast to keep alive an old phase of the celebration. The festivities will be full of local color and well worth searching out.

Dute depends on community tradition COMPITALIA

Date depends on community calendar PAGANALIA

This festival is still celebrated by a few This festival is still celebrated by a for rural communities around Rome. The activities are tied in with the winter sowing activities of local farmers. When they finish their assing they have the first day of activities and then wait a week before they celebrate the second day of Paganalia. If you can find a community that keeps this ancient festival alive, you will be in for a special treat because a pregnant sow is killed and shared as a sacrificial feast. LATIN: YOUR BEST EDUCATIONAL INVESTMENT

POWPELLAN was incorporated under the lane of the State of Indians in Augus 1974 as a Extimal Not-for-profit Center for the Promotion of Classical Studies at the Secondary School Level.

Over 15,000 employ of THE PERSULIAN RESOLUTION are printed menthly during the school year for sirvalation throughout the U.H., Consain and abread, Absertion; notes and buildelines for Matrial for Publication should be requested from the editor along with raise and policies for built classroom orders.

THE PORPETIAN RENDETTER is a numbership for those holding ALTINIO MINESIMITE (45 arms), ADDIT MINESIMITE (510 per arms). CONTRIBUTION MINESIMITE (515 per arms).

A monthly Answer Sheet is mailed with bulk eleasonom orders and to all holding contributing ARMERISAITS.

Nates for FOREIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS are quoted on a country-by-country basis for Air Mail service.

Cara Matrona,

I am a little confused and I hope you can help me. I am twelve years old and promised in marriage to Pinarius Cerialia' son who lives marriage to Pinarius Cerialle' son who lives down the street from our house. I hope I'm not committing hybris when I say that I am a very attractive young lady, and I like to dress and carry myself in a way that emphasizes my besaty, Every time my grandfather sees me, however, he gives me the sign of shame and tella me I should go pray to the goddess Pudicitia. I don't even gives se the sign of shame and tells se : nhowse go pray to the goddens Pudicitia. I don't even know who Pudicitia is, and I get all confused whenever ny state does this. Can you tell me who Pudicitia is and what's going on with my give?

Lores, Pompelis.

Cara Lorea,

Pirst of all, your grandfather only wants what is best for you, and you oee him your total respect. You say that you are very attractive, and for this you owe thanks to Venus and the Graces. Remember, however, that you are a young LADY. You are already promised in marriage and you must always carry yourself in such a way that you do not give the impression that you are not someone from a proper family. It is possible to dress nicely and comport yourself knownably without being a tease on the streets. I think this is what concerns your awa. Podicitia is an old Roman goddess of modesty and chastity. She is always completely draped and, like a lady, keeps her right hand concealed in the folds of her garment. Try to be more modest, especially when you are around your grandfather. Be careful never to climb more than two stairs in the presence of a young boy or man, and keep your eyes lowered. Pudicitia may be an old fashioned goddess, but people still like to see young girls who are modest and chaste in their actions.

By Eric Gregory, Latin III student of Sucan Helm Smith, Linguages H.S., Frederick, MD

Olim erat cornix quae frustum casei invenit. Cornix ad ramum altum volavit et cum caseo ibi sedit. Ursa venit et a cornice territa caseum capere temptavit. Ursa sub arbore stetit et fremuit. Sed cornix caseum non omittebat. Ergo ursa discessit.

Tus porcus verrucosus, qui erat turpissimus, vemit et cornicem vidit. Secum cogitavit, "Tam turpis sum ut, me videns, cornix rideat et cascum omitat." Sod eo viso, cornix nen risit neque cascum omisit. Handquaquam orem speruit et porcus verrucosus discessit.

Deinde vulpes ingeniosissima cornicen et caseum vidit. Cornici dixit, "Cornix, talis pulchra avis es! Triste est quod cantare non potes. Potesne mihi cantare?"

Cornix, quae pulchra mamquam appellata erat, commonta erat et cantare incopit. Quando autom orem aperuit ut asperam vocem emitteret, cameum omisit. Vulpes caseum statim devoravit et fugit.

HAIKUS LATINI

Submitted by Latin III-IV students of Mrs. Janu Ebersole, Pindlay High School, Pindlay, Chio.

DE AESTATE

Solis fervet lumen In mea facie Fragranti aestate. Buffy Kagy

Ut apes faciunt mel Laborant saeve Viri urbem aestate. Michelle Newscomer

DE AENEA

Vermus, mater Aeneae Dea amoris, Tegit Acnean

Cuthy Wien

Aeness tres cervos interfecit, Tres cervi--Mortui sunt.

Mark Solmidt

Silchester (continued from Pagina Prima)

moister surrounding areas. It would be wonderful to see Silchester first from a hot air balloon, for the aerial photographs provide a perfect overview, clearly delineating the grid of Roman streets, the basilica, and the inner town walls.

I could not have had a better host or more knowledgeable guide than my English friend Charlie, who suggest-ed that a visit to Silchester would provide me a unique archaeological expedition. It was his uncrring naviga-tional skills over back roads that brought us to Stratfield Saye, past Manor Farm to St. Mary's Church, where we enjoyed a proper picnic before beginning our exploration of Silchester. From the church courtyard we passed through the "kissing gate," following the public footpath through woods to the town wall. We hiked the wall's trench until we found a place to climb to the top, no easy feat but well worth the effort. We followed this best preserved section to the southern gate, dutifully matching the brisk pace set by Charlie who casually drewfrom his storchouse of historical lore all the cogent details regarding the original inhabitants, the Atrebates. As if he had read about them in the morning paper, he filled us in on these early terrorists, who migrated from Gaul in the 1st century B.C., escaping Julius Caesar after their backing of Vercengetorix. Here they finally settled down and made a go of it, their settlement being transformed into a Roman town not long after the Roman conquest of A.D. 43. By the end of the first century A.D. their town had been provided with a regular grid of streets, baths, an amphitheater, and a forum-basilica. By the third century the Romans constructed the walls we were now following and the town continued to grow until the end of Roman administration and the withdrawal of troops from A Roman town, Silchester, in Hampshire. There is a modern farm in one corner of the old town.

After completing the circuit of the walls and visiting the small museum, we set off for the amphitheater, which is currently being excavated. We passed through the entrance to the arena floor, on either side of which are niches, perhaps recesses for shrines. Above the walls are wooded banks which were originally covered with wooden seats which could have comfortably seated 4,000 spectators.

Having enjoyed my visit to the site itself, all that remained was a trip to the Reading Museum, which houses Silchester's amazing collection of artifacts. Though the ornaments, coins, writing materials, tools, pottery, statues, and building materials were in cases, in my mind's eye I placed them in situ, in the Silchester that will always be. As a souvenir I purchased a copy in bronze of the Silchester horse, a talisman I shall long treasure.

Iron Age Bronze handle: 'the Silchester horse'

PASSAGE

By Susan Smith, Latin student of Mary Steppe, Terre Baste South Vigo H.S., Terre Baste, Ind.

I will go to battle soon,
I shall die before I grow old.
Close my eyes with weights of silver.
Place in my mouth a coin of gold.
(Lest Charon should forsake my soul,
In the absence of his pay,
And let it wander, lost, forever,
Unable to find its way.)
I will journey doen the River Styx,
Its waters are murky and black,
Cerberus gives passage, to travel below,
But there will be no turning back.
In Hades, pray that I not be punished,
In this life I have caused no one strife,
But let me dwell in the Elysian fields
And slowly forget this life.

esoteric myths of Greece & Rome

PHILOMELA AND PROCNE

There were once two daughters of King Pandion of Attica, named Philomelous Process

When they were growing up they were the best of friends and had little secret ways of communi-cating with each other so that no one else would know.

when they became old crough to be married, their kingdom was being attacked by a very powerful enemy. The enemy we so powerful that their father had to invite the hero Tereus to help defend his country. The kin promised to give Tereus one of his daughters if he was successful in defeating the enemy of The king

Needless to say, the great beauty of the two girls inspired Tereus to fight more bravely than ever and he soon saved Attica. When King Pandior told Tereus to choose either Philemela or Procne for his wife, Tereus couldn't decide. He really wanted then both, but knew this would not be an acceptable solution, Finally, he chose Procne.

acceptable solution. Finally, he chose Procne, After a while, Procne gave birth to a son when they named Itys, and shortly thereafter Tereus began to lose interest in her and to think about her sister, Philosella. Tereus then took his wife Procne into the country far from her father, His plan was to conceal her and pretend that she had died so he could ask for Philosella's hand. To insure that his plan would nove, he cut out Procne's tongue so she would nover be able to tell anyone where she was.

After Tereus married Philomela, he kept Proces busy securing in her far-may country home. He even had her wearing clothes for Philomela. One day, however, while seaving a peptus for her sister. Procee resembered the secret ways she and her sister used to have of communicating. and her sister used to have or communicating. She insediately began to weave a secret message into the material of her sister's gown, after she had sent the message, she killed her son ltys and served him as dinner to his father Tereus, When Tereus discovered what Process had done, he resolved to kill her. Proces, however, had escaped with her sister.

Tereus pursued both sisters with an ax, determined now to kill them both. The misters, however, prayed for malvation to the gods. In answer to their prayers, they were both changed into birds. Proces was turned into a smilles, and Philoscha into a nightingale, forever becoming the surfered Itys. To panish Proces for killing her own som, the goods also changed Teress into a bird-a hawk-, and in this form he pursues the sisters

Adult or Student Latin-theme Cartoonists Wanted

Pompeiiana Newsletter to Feature Full Page of Comics.

Several changes in the format and content of the Pomperianu Messiciter are being planned for Volume XV to be published during the 1988-1989 school year.

The Newsletter will test am 8-page format, with one whole page being devoted to original Latin-theme or ancient history-theme comics and car-tions.

If any of our adult readers or student readers have both the interest and the talent and would like to have a series of their cartoons or comics featured in next year's Pompeliana Newsletter, they are invited to send a sample of the comic strip or cartoon they would like to create and see featured. The text need not necessarily be in Latin although the content must be related to Latin or ancient history. The cartoon characters and material presented must be original, and the cartoonists must be willing to community to providing monthly material for the nine issues to be published next year.

Sample cartoons and comic strips should be submitted to Pompoiinns by MARCH 1, 1988. Those selected for serial publication will be featured in a special proview to be published in the Nay, 1988 issue of the Newsletter.

All work must be submitted in black felt-tip pen on white paper. The format for a comic-strip should be \mathcal{B}_{2}^{st} high by 12 7/8" long. This will be reduced to fit a 2" x 10" area. Indi-vidual cartoons should be 3 7/8" square to be re-duced to a 3" square in the Newsletter.

LATIN TICKTACK-TOE

From the teaching files of Gertrade Bring, IN.

The following diagram needs to be prepared for display either on the board or on an overhead projector beforehand:

GALLIC WAR	VOCABULARY	DAILY LIFE
AESAR'S LIFE	DERIVATIVES	BUILDINGS
POR45	GRAMMAR	POLITICS

The topics can be varied to suit material which the students happen to be studying.

To play, the class is divided into two teams, the X's and the 0's. As a member of the X-team answers a question from the category of his/her amsers a question from the category of his/her choice correctly, the scorekeeper places an X in the proper place on the chart. Then a member of the 0-tune is given a turn. If anyone fails to answer correctly, the class is asked for the correct information. The object of the game is to secure a vertical, horizontal or diagonal line of three like symbols and to prevent the opposing team from scoring. If blocking is successful on both sides, the game is completed without a score. The team that wins the greatest number of games is the winner of the day.

Of course, for a fast-moving, well-rum game, the questions must be made out before the period begins.

NEW TROY HAS FALLEN

By James H. Daigle, Latin V student of Vincent O. Drago, St. Martin's Episcopal School, Metairie, LA

A Gaesar would spring of Trojan line, his fame bounded by the stars divine. From Acness and the toga'd race, yould yield a most imperial place. This mighty nation, namely New Troy, which was Venus' most prided joy, would comquer nations in lust for war, until its enemies were no more.
For a time of great peace it would rule,
'til savage tribes extinguished its cruel.

(Inapired by Jupiter's speech to Venus, Aeneld, Bk 1)

A LITTLE ROWAN ADVICE: DREAM WELL AND TAKE NOTES

The Romans believed that whatever you dreamed about during the first twelve nights of January represented, symbolically or literally, exactly what would happen to you during each month of the year. Good mote taking was a sime que non. ROMAN POETS OF THE GOLDEN AGE:

CATULLUS

A new series by

Sr. Michael Louise, Oldenburg, Indiana.

Gains Valerins Catullus (c. N7-54 N.C.) has the distinction of being Rome's first great lyric poet. A mative of Verona, a Celtic settlement in Cisalpine Gaul, he left home as a young man to complete his education in Rome and mingle with the intellectuals and literary men there, he stayed in Rome for several years but took no part in the political life of the city.

part in the political life of the Casy.

Who is remembered as the author of a single book of poems, consisting of fewer than 2,500 lines, in fact, were it not for one solitary tattered copy of his 110 poems that was discovered in Wercess during the 14th century, Catullus would also belong to the long list of lost Roman writers remembered only by references and quotations found in the works of other mathors.

Catalius had mastered the art of expressing ex-quisitely personal feelings. His lyrics were written under the influence of every mood he experienced: joy, grief, hatred, scorn, love of his friends, mirth at some ridiculous incident, pride in his yacht (plauselue), love of nature combined with pride of ownership as he contempla-ted Sirmio, his home on a slender tongue of rock that projects into Lake Gardo in Northern Italy.

The themes of his charming poems are varied. One dealt with the death of a pet sparrow of "Leshia," a shameless woman with whom Catullus was infatuated:

Purser, deliciae mezo puellae, Quem plus illa coulia suis amabat.

The sparrow of my lady love is dead, The sparrow, the pet of my mistress, Whom she loved more than her own eye

The following epigram is one of the most famous ever written. It sams up the tragic effect of ever written. It sums up the tragic effect of Catullus' infatuation for Lesbia:

Odi et amo. Quare id faciam fortasse requirie. Noscio, sed fieri sentio et extrucior.

" I hate and I leve. Perhaps you ask why I do this. I do not know, but I feel 'tis true and I am tormented."

During this relentless period of three years, he addressed thirty of his most remomed love lyrics to her. It was a long, frustrating and doomed love affair. Perhaps grief for the unworthy leshia shortened the poet's life. So special was his love for her that he coined a new word for kiss, haudem, (instead of occulum). No other poet, mether before nor after Catullius, wrote so frankly of himself, thus revealing his deep, personal nature.

Other themes treated by Catullus are a dinner in-vitation, his beaccoming to Sirmio, the death of his beloved brother, and even the purity of married love. He so admired Greek writers that many of his poems are translations from Greek.

Despite his youth and his "spoiled rich kid's" ways, Catullus greatly influenced other latin poets such as Formore, Virgil and Ovid, and modern poets such as Tempson. He had a genius for adapting Grock meters to his latin lyric poetry. It seems that Catullus wrote poetry as easily as most people handle conversation.

Salve, and welco Sulve, and welcome to my kitchen. When the weather gets cold and the wind chills your limbs, there's no better place to be than in a nice, warm sulfna.

This is a hard month for cooks-there just doesn't seem to be a lot of interesting food items available. About the best you can do is try to get some well preserved items that are healthy and appetizing. This is the time of the year that my puter absays likes artichokes, lie claims they are good for his digestion, but I think he likes them just as much for the story he can tell whenever we have them-you know, the can tell whenever we have them-you know. The can tell whenever we have them-you know, the can tell whenever we have them-you know. The can tell whenever we have them-you know. The day of course, she was turned into an artichoke. Because she was a very sweet girl, the bitterness of her punishment mixed with this sweetness and produced the bland taste of this fruit. My puter always used this story to convince his daughters of the nocessity of being both sweet and obedient! Anyway, here is the way my puter likes his

Anyway, here is the way my puter likes his artichokes prepared:

CARDUI CUM HERBIS ELIXI

crushed mint % t. ground pepper 2 t. olive oil

Clean and trim any hard or rough parts of the artichokes, them steam them in a covered pan of water for 45 mins. Then put them in a warm place while you prepare the dressing.

Grind all the hard ingredients together, them add the clive oil, vegetable stock and honey. Boil this mixture and then let it simmer for 10 mins.

Serve the steamed artichokes with the dressing poured lavishly over them, Bosum Appetitue!

A SHORT POFM ON THE LIFE OF ORPHEUS

By "Aurelius" Maciejewski, Latin I student of Margaret Curran, Orchard Park Nigh Bohool, Orchard Park, N.Y.

Orphous struck his lyre harmoniously; The fiercest spirits would act peaceful Orphous acquired his lyre from Apollo; Orpheus acquired his lyre from Apollo; lie was certainly a tough act to follow.
For rocks, trees, and rivers he did play;
latil the lovely farydice he met one day.
After their wedding happy and gay.
A viper came Eurydice's way.
In his despair, he swore to get her back;
He mast go to the underworld and make a pact.
Because of his eagerness he had to pay;
She would never be seen in the light of day.
Orpheus suffered terribly from his sorrow;
He refused wamen because of his wedding vow.
Thracian wamen were followers of evils;
They discovered the gentleman and tore him to pieces.
His head was taken in by the Nebrus
to the Lesbos shore;
It was Eurydice he continued to call for.
The Muses buried his head;
And they gathered the rest.

And they gathered the rest. Orpheus was placed at the foot of Mt. Olympus; There the birds sing more sweetly than anywhere else.

CLASSIFIED ADS

MULTI LIBRI NOVI

New and backlist titles and classic textbooks in Classical Studies are available in a catalog from University Press of America, 4720-A Boston Way, Lanham, MD 20706.

PERMEDERA

INTERPRES OPTIMUS MOX ROMAE ERIT

Have your January dreams interpreted by the best. Apollonius is more than a philosopher. He is the man that predicted the short reigns of Galba, Otho and Vitellius. You know how important those first twelve dreams of January are-let Apollonius tell you examely how to interpret thems. Apollonius will be at the Temple of Januar between Idibus Januariis and Kalendis Februariis.

CURATORE GALLINARIO OPUS EST

Ismediate opening for an experienced poultryman. Must have experience in force feeding chickens suspended in wicker baskets to prepare them for market in XX to XXV days. We breed only gallinae villaticae. Those who specialize in working with gallinae Africance or gallinae resticute need not apply. Report to the gallinarium located at the crossroads of Via Asinarium the Via Tusculuma on the Ides of January.

IN CAESARIS UMBRA

The historical novel for 2nd year Latin students: IN CAESAR'S SANDOW by Mary Machado, 8951 S.W. 10th Torrace, Miami, FL 33174. $10.00

VERBA A LATINIS GRAECISQUE DERIVATA

Cracking the code of English doesn't have to be a secret mission according to the University of Arizona Press, 1230 N. Park, #102, Tucson, AZ 85719. To this end they have published BMZLISH WORDS FROM LATIN AND GREEK HIMM Ayers and revised by Worthen and Cherry, pages. $5.95 paperbound, $10.00 hardcover. 290

VOBIS DEFIXIONES FACIAM

Start the year off right-get even with someone. Let me make a personalized definio which will be nailed to a prominent spot sure to be seen by your victim. No limit on the kind of curse you want. References. See Mystagogus, Cumme.

- FIDES, Georgius Michael
- CAELLM EST LOCUS IN TERRA, Belinda Carleola
- III. NECESSE ERAT MELIUS COQNOVISSE, Ricardus Notae
- IV. VITAE MEAE TEMPUS, Gaillienus Farrago et Guinevera Monet
- ESTNE HIC AMOR? Anguisalbus V.
- QUATE AMOREM TURM! Debora Gibifilius VI.
- VII. TAM MOBILI ANIMO, Whitnes Houstonis
- VIII. ERIMUS NOBISCIM, Aculeus
- IX. NONNE ME CUPIS? Jodea Watles
- IN TE ANIMAM INTENDO, Georgius Harrifilius х.
- XI. CAPE ME! Pulchrum Venenum
- XII. DIC ID CORDI MEO, Textor Duran

1	The TV Column
-	4 ME 5 wrrs 7 ME 9 WEA 20 WDC 50 WTT
6 %	By Sally Davie, Wakefield High School, Arlington, Virginia.
7 %	Jacobus et Vir Pinguis
8 %	Viginti Viginti

Theatrum Magnusi-Orus

Mariti cum Liberis Relinque Id Castori

Inctatio

9 .

10 -

11 2

12 3

1 .

2 =

A Pannis ad Divitias

Vitae Facta

Ludus Quorum Nuper Naptī Sunt

Fabula Sceleris

Plausus

Una Vita Vivenda

Saxa Silicis

Sanctus Alibi

Iter ad Astra: Novum Saeclum 3 .

Feminae Quae Michinantur

BUDDING GENIUS

- 1. From which two Latin words does the English
- When is medicine to be taken if the pre-scription indicates p.r.n. (pro re mata)?
- Near what famous memorial of Augustus did Marcus Aurelius erect his famous column?
- For what is the Ager Falermus most famous?
- 5. When were Versus Fescensini usually suns?
- What are arsis and thesis?
- 7. To which historian was Vergil indebted for Acneas Troy-None connection
- What is the more usual name for the Emperor Heliogabalus?
- What driver of Apollo's chariot was struck by Jove's thunderbolt?
- Who forced all travelers to fit his bed of
- 11. Distinguish Dryads, Naiads and Greads.

How Well Did You Read?

- A journey down what river is described in "Passage" by Susan Smith?
- What is Apollonius offering to do between the Ides of January and the February Kalends?
- 3. What animal is sacrificed during Pagamalia?
- Which teacher says "Italy looks like a soccer player about to kick a soccer ball"?
- Which Roman poet owned a yacht and a lake-side villa named Sirmio?
- Who was responsible for Cicero being sent into exile?
- Who was changed into a look by the gods?
- In English name four different animals
 I Top displayed on stage during concerts.
- Why was a young Greek girl on the Island of Cinara turned into an artichoke? According to Duniel Abraham's new myth.
- what fruit did Newtonia produce after she had been turned into a tree?
- 11. What was Silchester's Roman name?

WOULD YOU CARE TO REPHRASE THAT?

The Latin words below can be used as-is to create the Latin translations of these English phrases.

while I breathe, I hope: In peace:

A slip of the pen; Appear11v:

Uniquer

All things change

Let military power yield to civil power:

Another self: Step by step:

The face is the mirror of the soul;

The golden means For each individual:

Anous At this time:

In this sign you will conquer:

Untirely: Between ourselves:

Few but good: From soun to nuts:

As a matter of form:

TOME DO	dominant of	e meet work	partie duction	ances.
alter animi annum arma aurea	cedant de dum ego est forma generis gradus hoc imago	in inter lapsus mula mediocritus mutantur nos novo omnia ovo	puce punca per pro sed signo spero spiro sui tempore	togae toto usque vinces vultus

CAN YOU DECIPHER THESE ENGLISH PROVERBS?

By Sarika Chamira and Jernifer Pooley, Latin IV students of Dr. Machain, Waltham N.S., Mass.

- (Viridior semper in altera parte est herba.)
- (Noll prograstingre good hodie facere potes.)
- (Lapis volvens nihil legit musci.)
- (Avis matutina venem capit.)
- (Malus quotidianum medicum arcet.)
- (Plures stocks sele gum aceto capere setes.)
- (NoII pulles manerare prinsquamex evis terint)
- (Potes usum ad aquam ducere, bibere autem
- (Fustes et lapides son ossa frangant at cogere non potes.)

verbs mihl namasan nocere

Sing Along

AULD LANG SYNE

From the teaching files of Gertrude Being, IN.

Mm aniconm veteran Decet oblivisci? Annorum, Heu, fugacium Et temporis, acti?

Actum, soldales, ob tempus Prieteritum tempus, Priusquam discesserimus Manus iumgamas.

Flores of in decerpoints Ludentes in pratis Sed aspera peragravinus Diebus et illis,

Et agebasus vacuos Dies ad rivulum; Sed dividet iam diu nos Acquer undesum,

WHAT TIME WAS THIS?

By Amy Rudington, student of Sr. Marita Gill, Seton Catholic N.S., Pitteton, Pennaylvania.

- I won a civil war against Pompey.
- We were judicial officials,
- 3. We were the lover
- class of Rose.
- We were in charge of finances. 5. I. Marcus limius,
- killed Caesar We were the chief
- executives. We protected common people's rights.
- 8. We were Rome's upper class.

CLASSICAL MATHEMATICS By Mrs. Domus Wright, Laurence Township Schools, Indianapolis, Imbiana.

Record answers using latin cardinal mmerals and Roman numerals, Answers should equal total given, CARDINAL ROWN

- The number of hills in Bone times the number of kings.
- The number of Hercules' labors less the Mases. 5. The number of the parts of Gaul times the number of
- men in a triumvirate.
- Add the number of Leto's children to Mara's. Add the rumber of heads on the Hydra to Cerberus*.

TOTAL. EXXIX

ILIAD CROSSWORD PUZZLE By Greg Stefeen, Indiana Univ., Bloom ACROSS CLUES

- PROSECUES

 ATHER PELOPS
 FORMAN NAME FOR ATTEMS
 FORMAN NAME FOR ATTEMS
 FORMAN NAME FOR THE SOME OTHER
 NAMES FOR THIS GOO

 THAN SOTHER OF ZEUS
 ANNS SEARCH FOR ACHICLES
 A FURY
 ZEUS WIFE, WHICH HE DEPUT/HED
 MEANT "GOO OF DIGHT
 DEPARTMENT OF THE SOME
 PERFORMED THE 12 LABORS
 COCKANDS WIFE, WAS AND THE SOME ASCARDE CHIEF THAN LOVED HIS IN HEALER OF THE GOOS

 WHEN CLUES

27. DOWN CLUES

- DRIN CLUES

 RECIDER OF PELEUS

 RECIDER OF PELEUS

 RECIDER OF PELEUS

 REAL THE LARTENITY

 COMMERCIALS ON TO, FOR BETT

 COMMERCIALS ON TO,

 COMMERCIALS ON TO,

 COMMERCIALS ON TO,

 COMMERCIALS ON TO,

 COMMERCIALS ON A DESCRIPTION

 RECOUNTER OF RECIDER

 RECIDER ON PERMIT OF THE VICTOR

 THE SOUTHERN PERMITS A OF RECIDER SEA

 ANDRERS HAME FOR THOST LIBRARS

 ANDRERS HAME FOR THOST LARGE

 ANDRERS HAME FOR THOST LARGE FOR SET

 ANDRERS HAME FOR THOST LARGE FOR SET

 ANDRERS HAME FOR THOST LARGE FOR SET

 FOUNDERS

Fig Newtons Calleva Atrebatum

AUXILIA MAGISTRIS

(These answers & solutions are mailed with each bulk membership sent in care of a teacher. Copies are also sent to all Contributing Members. No opies are sent to student members.)

		addead	edeledelede	e de la
36	40		43
CARMINA OPTIMA	WOULD YOU CARE TO REPHRASE THAT?		WHAT TIME WAS THIS?
1. FAITH, George Michael	The Latin words below can be used a the Latin translations of these Eng	aliah mbanasa	By Amy Redington, student of Sr	. Marita Gill,
 HEAVEN IS A PLACE ON EARTH, Belinda Carlisle 	While I breathe, I hope: Oun S.	PIRO SPERO	Seton Catholio H.S., Pittston,	Penney Lvanta.
 SHOULD'VE KNOWN BETTER, Richard Marx 	THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN TWO IS NOT THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN TWO IS NAMED IN COLUMN TW	APSUS CALAMI	 I won a civil war against Pompey. 	CAESAR
4. THE TIME OF MY LIFE, Bill	Name of the second seco		2. We were judicial	*
Nodley & Jennifer Warnes 5. IS THIS LOVE? Whitesnake	anadae.	TUI GENERA		AFIORS
SHAKE YOUR LOVE, Debbie	All things change One Let military power yield to civil p		S. We were the lower class of Rome. PL	EBIANS
Gibson 7. SO EMOTIONAL, Whitney		0	4. We were in charge
Houston		LTER EGO	of finances. QUA	ESTORS
8. WE'LL BE TOGETHER, Sting 9. DON'T YOU WANT ME?	Step by step: The face is the mirror of the soul:	PER GRADUS	S. I, Marcus Iunius,	BRUTUS
Jody Watley	INAGO ANIMI E	ST VULTUS	killed Caesar.	BRUTUS
10. GOT MY MIND SET ON YOU, George Harrison	1,400 (100 b) (100 b) (100 b)	COLOCKITAS	6. We were the chief executives.	ONSULS
11. CATCH ME, Pretty Poison		DE NOVO	7. We protected common
12. TELL IT TO MY HEART, Taylor Dayne	445.50.00	HOC TENPORE	people's rights. TR	LBUNES
37	In this sign you will conquer:	STATE OF STATE OF	B. We were Rome's PATR	ICIANS
MIS MIVAL	Application of the Contract of	IN TOTO	^
		TEA NOS	UNSWER: REPUB	1 1 1 0
4 wic 5 wire 7 with 9 with 20 work 50 with	Automore -	SED BONA	44
5 20/20 Jake and the Fat Man	From soup to nuts: AB ovo vsqut	AD DALA	CLASSICAL MAT	UEMATIC
7 Misterpiece Theater	and the contract of the contra	ONA FORMA	By Mrs. Donna Wright, Laurence
8 Married with Children	41		Indianapolie, Indiana.	reamonep benegati
Leave It to Beaver	CAN YOU DECIPHER THESE ENGLIS	TPROVERRY	Record answers using Latin care	dinal numerals and
9 Wrestling From Rags to Riches	By Sarika Chandra and Jennifer Feel	lay, Latin IV	Roman numerals. Answers should	CARDINAL RUNNA
10 Facts of Life	students of Dr. MacBain, Waltham H. 1. THE GRASS IS ALMAYS GREENER ON 1		1. The number of hills in Rome	quadraginta
Newly Wed Game	[Viridior semper in altera parte NEVER PUT OFF TILL, TOMORROW	e est herba.]	times the number of kings.	novem XIII
11 Cheers	2. Neat you can no mony. (Noti procrastinare quod hodie I	accre notes.	The number of Hercules' labors less the Muses.	tren III
One life to Live	3. A ROLLING STONE GATHERS NO MOSS.		3. The number of the parts of
12 # Flintstones	(Lapis volvens mihil legit musci	(.)	Gaul times the number of men in a triumvirate.	AND THE PARTY NAMED IN
St. Elsewhere Star Trek: The New Generation	(Avis matutina vermon capit.)		4. Add the number of Leto's	novem IX
Designing Women		AHAY.	children to Hera's.	nex VI
38	5. AN APPLE A DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR (Mallum quotidianum medicum arcet YOU CAN CATCH MORE FLIES WITH HE	DNEY	5. Add the number of heads on BUDDING GENIUS	 THAN YOU CAN WITH VINEGAR. (Plures muscas mele quam aceto con properties) 	apere potes.)	the Hydra to Cerberus'.	duodecim XII
	7. DON'T COUNT YOUR CHICKENS METORS			TOTAL LXXIX
1. cum (together) veho (carry) 2. when necessary	(Noli pullos numerare priusquam e	ex ovis ierint)
3. The Ara Pacis	 YOU CAN LEAD A HORSE TO WATER, 1 (Potes equam ad aquam ducere, bil 	BUT bere autem	SPECIAL "BACK ISSUE" OFFE	R
4. Falernian Wines 5. During the wedding	YOU CAN'T MAKE HIM DRINK.		Touchann magaine 70 and procession.	cogere non potes.)		Teachers, receive 30 copidifferent past issues of	the Pompeiiana unaccented/accented part	 STICKS AND STONES MAY BREAK MY I (Fustes et lapides men ossa france) 	gant at	NEWSLETTER, complete with	answer sheets.
of a poetic foot. 7. Ennius	WORDS CAN NEVER HURT ME.		U.S.A. Orders: $5.00 /For	reign: $10.00
8. Elagabalus			SPECIAL "BACK ISSUE" ORDER	EODM:
9. Procrustes	42 :C D E	NTALUS.
 Wood-, water-, mountain- nymphs 		TO L .	Please send sets of my attention at my SCHOOL
39	.U C D M	A C.	My check for the total and	ound due (in
HOW WELL DID YOU READ?	.D L A SHOO	HAI.	U.S.A. Funds) is enclosed.
	. AUTOMEDON A	ER P.	NME:
1. Styx 2. Interpret January dreams	.H U A	S 0 L.	SCHOOL:
 Pregnant sow Kathy Hayes 	.E TISIPHONE	R D. K P.	SCHOOL ADDRESS:
5. Catullus 6. Clodius	E T RR		CITY: STATE:
7. Tereus	.R H PHOIBOS		7 IP CODE:
 A young bullock, a cow, vultures, a rattle snake, 	. ACHAIA R S HE	RACLES.	ZIP CODE:
a wolf and a pig 5. She offended a god		ເມ່ເມຣ :

. TROILUS PAION